When you send out your communication to your folks, please be sure to be explicit about the fact that your dates override any dates that they have received from DRC.

Thanks

That's really good news, Joyce. Assuming the strike ends today or tomorrow, I think we should be able to finish up next week with ACCESS. I appreciate your advocacy on our behalf.

Justin,

We just heard back from DRC. They agreed to extend both online and paper-based testing through FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 22nd. The ship date has also been extended to FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 22nd.

Thanks again for working with us! Seriously Justin. I really do appreciate your approach.

Justin,

We got the extension through Thursday, February 21st; but I have asked DRC to go back and check to see if there is any more wiggle room. Fingers crossed for Friday. As soon as we hear back, I'll let you know.

Please keep in mind, whichever day is the last day will also be ship day. We may want to talk about how you may want to approach that…

Appreciate your patience Justin,
